

Global OSHA: Contract and Customized Training

The Global Occupational Safety and Health Academy conducts a wide range of instructor-led occupational safety and health courses for safety professionals and workers in various trades. Global OSHA also offers its regular courses and customized courses on a contract basis to companies and organizations worldwide. Training can be provided in person or via live webinar instruction. Global OSHA can provide training on safety and health topics specific to an organization's industry, company, or personnel. Global OSHA instructional staff includes a network of safety experts, most of whom are former OSHA personnel, former instructors for the OSHA Training Institute, or OTI Education Center instructors. Put Global OSHA safety and health training expertise to work for your organization.

Benefits of Global OSHA Training

Global OSHA training adds unique value:

- Experienced safety experts
- Customized to your needs
- Accredited training
- Assessments on all training
- Continuing Education Units (CEUs)

OSHA Experience and Expertise

Global OSHA is founded and managed by former senior management staff from the U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration's Directorate of Training and Education. The organization and its staff are uniquely qualified to develop and deliver occupational safety and health training programs and courses for workers and trainer credentials for safety professionals.

Flexibility

Because Global OSHA is not a government agency, it is able to operate with more flexibility. Global OSHA can be more responsive to the needs of its customers in developing and conducting training programs and courses.

Customized Courses

Global OSHA can develop customized training courses adapted to meet the needs of your industry, company, and employees. Global OSHA experts can develop training specific to your company's unique operations, work processes, and operating equipment.

Global OSHA's network of experienced instructors has the subject matter expertise and experience to identify job hazards and to tailor the training to help your workers work safely and eliminate workplace accidents and injuries.

The Location of Your Choice

Global OSHA can conduct contract training for your company at locations worldwide. Global OSHA can conduct contract training at its location near Chicago or at your company's location, making it convenient for your employees to attend.

Global OSHA can also develop and host customized live webinar or self-paced online courses, allowing your employees to complete the training at their convenience and based on their own schedule and availability.

Courses for Your Industry

Global OSHA can tailor training to your specific industry, to address situations and hazards. Whether your business is in the construction, manufacturing, retail, fast food, maritime, petroleum, or warehousing industry, Global OSHA can train to the specific situations and hazards in your industry.
